A Workshop on School-based Children and Youth Development Model for Schoolteachers in Thailand (2014)

My Vision

- I strongly believe that teaching profession is the noblest one.
- Teaching not only school subjects, but also moral and civic lessons.
- A teacher is not just only teaching but he/she is also a parent, guide, counselor, and friend to our students.

❖ Developing students' abilities through school activities

Teaching school subjects:
learner-centered classroom

School activities : Saying prayers and meditating

School-based children and youth development model of Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn

❖ Outstanding achievements of school activities

❖ Work leads to the achievement

- In my country, all teachers should be not only good leaders but also role models for their students. We, teachers are responsible to nurture all-round development of students.
- I always teach my students to have good habits for studying and life skills that they can apply in their real life situation. I always teach them to have good moral and discipline and to behave as good citizens. I always appreciate and value all of them as today students will be the future leaders of our country.

- ❖ Action plan to establish better learning environment for students that can enhance students' ability to perform in real life
