BANGKOK (NNT) - On 22 October 2020, Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn traveled to the Siam Kempinski Hotel, in Pathumwan district of Bangkok, to preside over the opening of the 3rd Princess Maha Chakri Awards, being organized by the Princess Maha Chakri Award Foundation in collaboration with the Ministries of Education, Foreign Affairs and Interior, as well as the Fund for Educational Equality, the Public Relations Department, Thai embassies in ASEAN and Timor-Leste and other offices.

The two-day conference, on October 22nd and 23rd, aims to facilitate exchanges between Princess Maha Chakri Award winning teachers from Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, the Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Timor-Leste, Vietnam and Thailand. The conference is taking place via Zoom at Thai embassies across ASEAN and in Timor-Leste, due to the COVID-19 situation.

On this occasion, Her Royal Highness heard lectures by 2019 award winning teachers on techniques for attracting community participation and tearing down barriers to learning, multidisciplinary teaching and fostering a love for the classroom.

Her Royal Highness also took part in exchanging techniques on teaching, covering the teaching of science, and organizing classes for special needs students.

The Princess Maha Chakri Award is presented every two years and was most recently given in 2019 to exemplary teachers who dramatically affected students and who were of great service to education. A total of 11 awards were handed out among the nations of ASEAN and Timor-Leste.
